How's

Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headaches ensue; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons' Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., it hardly ever use anything else, and have never heard of any disappointment. It is a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

What Hands Show.

It is conceded by all that no two pairs of hands are exactly alike. It is also conceded that a hand may indicate strength or weakness, beauty or plainness, sensibility or brutality, and vigorous or poor health. It is further more conceded that the hands of artists and musicians commonly have long and flexible fingers, while the fingers of artisans and farmers are shorter and thicker. A muscular hand, with a vigorous grip, with few short lines, with the lines prominent, belongs as a rule to a healthy subject as does a flabby, skinny hand, with a feeble grip, with numerous short, pale lines, to a nervous subject.—D. D. Bidwell in New York Ledger.

A Crack in a Piece of Metal.

A crack in a piece of metal is prevented from extending further by the well known means of drilling a hole where the rent ends; but when the hole is not bored on just that spot the crack is apt to continue beyond the hole. Revue Industrielle recommends moistening the crack surface with petroleum, then wiping it and then immediately rubbing it with chalk. The oil has penetrated into the crack exudes, and thus indicates with precision where the crack stops.

A Tramp on the Washing Question.

"If your appearance is any indication I think I may be justified in assuming that you are opposed to washing," ventured Mr. Huggins' hostess.

"Washing," answered Mr. Huggins after a moment of mental abstraction, during which he absently tried to blow the foam off his cup of cold coffee—"washing," ma'am, is a mighty good thing to support a family on, but it seems to sorter sour a woman's temper. In fact, that's how I come to go on the road."—Indianapolis Journal.

DEATH OF CHEVALIER BAYARD.

When Bayard, knight of stainless name, With France's shattered legions flying, His Alpine ramparts crossed, And of his mortal wound lay dying, He bade his soldiers 'neath an oak Shading the river's tranquil flow Bear him, where, resting 'gainst his trunk, He still might face the foe.

Plumed knights and warriors bronzed and bearded, His clashing voices rang around the spot; "Oh, hero soul, fair shield of France, Whose honor knows no stain nor blot! 'God is her shield!' brave Bayard gasped; 'I haste, haste to your standards back, My last farewell bear to my king; Haste, the foe's on your track!'"

Ay, onward rush the coming foes; He who alone their ranks could stay Lies prostrate, and the sons of Spain Dash swiftly to the fray.

Pescara's fashion flashes bright, De Bourbon's shout rings loud and clear, But with lowered blade springs each brave knight.

From Sella, who Bayard draws near, The crimson and Pescara see, His clashing voices are still and low; "Oh, I would give my own heart's blood To save my noble foe!"

Sadly the traitor Bourbon spoke: "Oh, fower of knighthood, must we meet In guile like this? Dark, dark the hour That sees thee dying at my feet!"

Bayard's wan face glows deeply red, Beneath his helmet's waving plume, "Nay, nay, my lord, no ruth for me, Darker by far this hour of doom. On honor's field I sink to rest, Lead to my king, to duty lead; Keep true to the traitor soul Who 'gainst his country turns his steel." —Mary J. Stafford in New York Ledger.

The Vagabond Dog.

Anybody who has lived in a small town knows the vagabond street dog. Nobody seems to know how he disposes of himself at night, but during the day he lives on friendly terms with most of the errand boys and other frequenters of the streets. His tail has a wag of recognition for every familiar face, and he will even side up to a stranger now and again with an artful simulation of sudden and overpowering affection. But if you attempt to decoy him far from his habitual haunts the vagrant nature asserts itself, and after another bit of excellent acting in the shape of feigned reluctance to say good-by he trots leisurely back to his favorite resort.

Such dogs are commonly ill bred in more senses than one. They have no doubt lost their primitive savageness. They assume a friendly aspect toward man in general, but they have no heart, and prefer the streets to the woods simply because they offer a more tempting hunting ground.—Cornhill Magazine.

How One Term Originated.

Back during the time of Queen Elizabeth an act of parliament was passed prohibiting the exportation of wool. This project was one of the great sources of the natural wealth of England at that time, and in accordance with the economic notions of the age, the authorities attempted to keep it in the country, imagining that if it went abroad, even though something more valuable or desirable were exchanged for it, that the country would be the poorer.

In order to hold the importance of this commodity before the minds of the national legislators wool sacks were placed in the house of lords, where the judges sat. Hence, the lord chancellor, who presides over the house of lords, "sits on the wool-sack." The wool-sack, according to a printed description which we have seen, is a "large square bag of wool, without back or arms, and covered with red cloth."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

The Roadmasters' Reports—An Appropriation for the World's Fair.

Shellville to Have a New Bridge—Other Matters.

The Board of Supervisors convened in regular monthly session in Santa Rosa on Monday, May 4th.

The following Road Overseers' bills were allowed and ordered paid:

James Patrick, Knight's Valley, $156.25; J. B. Cooley, Cloverdale, $113.50; N. H. Cox, Healdsburg, $125.75; A. Clark, Skaggs Springs, $47.65; Charles Fairclough, Anady, $493.48; J. Johnson, Bloomfield, $234.75; Joseph Gossage, Petaluma, $182.80; O. Elmore, Penn's Grove, $87; J. E. Mallen, Lakeville, $205.35; J. E. Kearney, Sonoma, $474; F. J. Gould, Ocean, $510.50; D. B. Peugh, Redwood, $297.50; A. J. Hembre, Russian River, $188.60; H. A. Russell, Fulton, $535.85; J. Burgess, Santa Rosa, $348; Victor Durand, Fort Ross, $422.10.

The bill of George M. Hicks, Road Overseer of Stewart's Point road district for $295.87, was allowed.

TUESDAY, May 5th.

The Board of Directors of the Sonoma County World's Fair Association went before the Supervisors, and after the County Clerk had read their petition asked the Supervisors to take the matter of making an appropriation, under the law, for the Association, under advisement.

Chairman Smith and Mr. Cady assured the Directors that the Supervisors would investigate the law, take the matter under advisement, and no doubt lend the Association the financial aid the law gives them the right to.

On motion of Mr. Sales, the petition of F. J. Cordozo and others for a change of boundaries between Liberty and Wilson school districts, so as to place the land of M. G. Silva and Frank Silva in Wilson district, was granted and the boundaries duly specified.

WEDNESDAY, May 6th.

Contractor A. J. Meany was given an extension of twenty days in which to complete the new hall of records building.

On motion of Mr. Mead the petition of C. R. Patterson and others for the transfer of that portion of Guilford school district within the limits of Washington pound district to Knight's Valley pound district was granted.

The report of the following named Road Overseer was received and placed on file, and the accompanying bill allowed: J. Owens, Bodega, $318.49.

THURSDAY, May 7th.

Bids for the construction of a bridge over Mill Creek near Frank Cunningham's residence were opened, and on motion of Mr. Mead the contract was awarded to Cotton Bros. of San Francisco for $518, their bid being the lowest in the opinion of the Board. The bridge is to be of wood, 80 foot span and 16 foot roadway, and to be completed by the 7th of July.

John S. Fowler's petition for a change of boundary lines in Redwood pound district was denied. The viewers' report on the petition of L. S. Cooper, et al., for a public road over the lands of Mrs. Mary Starr, Taylor, Coffey, et al., was adopted, the required deeds received and the road declared a public highway.

Road Overseer Mead was authorized to have the old span of the Alexander bridge across Russian River, near Healdsburg, repaired, and as the Mendocino road district fund is exhausted, $100 was ordered out of the general county fund, if so much be found necessary.

Friday, June 5th, at 1:30 o'clock was set as the time for hearing the petition of A. P. Overton and others, for a change of road across the lands of the Home for Feeble Minded, in Sonoma road district.

On motion of Mr. Cady the reports of the County Auditor and County Treasurer were approved and placed on file. The following excerpt is from the Auditor's report:

port: Total receipt during month, $3,022.45; disbursements, $48,452.21; balance on hand, $147,486.10.

Total amount county indebtedness outstanding bonds, $237,500.

FRIDAY, May 8th.

In the matter of the petition of L. L. Cooper and others for a public road in the Fulton road district over the land of Mrs. Starr, Taylor and others, Supervisor Clark moved that the report of the viewers be approved and adopted and that said road be declared a public highway. The motion was carried.

June 5th was set as the time for hearing the report of the viewers on the proposed change of the road over the lands occupied by the Home for Feeble Minded Children, as petitioned for by A. P. Overton, Kohler & Frohling and others. L. E. Ricksecker, Walter Phillips and Samuel Hutchinson were appointed viewers to view and lay out the proposed road from Los Guillicos to Bennett Valley as prayed for by G. V. Davis and others, and report at the next meeting of the Board.

Warrants uncalled for in the Auditor's office, amounting to $50, were ordered cancelled.

On motion of Mr. Cady the Clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for the erection of a bridge across Sonoma creek at the extension of Broadway on the Petaluma and Sonoma road, bids to be received up to 1:30 p. m., Thursday, June 2d.

The following was offered by Mr. Mead: "The cases at the hospital which was under the special care and treatment of the County Physician having been treated and the circumstances for not making any change having ceased to exist, I therefore move that the motion passed by this Board February 3d, retaining Dr. M. M. Shearer therein as County Physician be and the same is hereby rescinded and that it be made the order of the Board that Dr. B. S. Young be and is hereby appointed County Physician to hold at the pleasure of the Board at a salary of $1,400 per annum, and that the new physician take the position June 1st." The vote resulted as follows: Ayes—Clark, Mead and Sales; noes—Cady and Smith.

Deafness Can't be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be forever lost. In case of deafness caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces, we will give you the Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that we cannot cure by using Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

Through the Weary Hours

Of many a night, made doubly long by its protracted agony, the rheumatic sufferer tosses to and fro on his sleepless couch, vainly praying for that rest which only comes by fits and starts. His malady is one which ordinary medicines too often fail to relieve, but there is ample evidence to prove that the efficient blood purifier, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, affords the rheumatic a reliable means of relief. Check the malady in its incipient stages, when the first premonitory twinges come on, with this agreeable medicine, and avoid years of torture. Whatever be the rationale of the active influence of the bitters upon this malady, certain it is that no evidence relating to its effect is more direct and positive than that which relates to its action in cases of rheumatism. Like all sterling remedies, however, it deserves a protracted, systematic trial, and should not be abandoned because not at once remedial. It is equally efficacious in dyspepsia, indigestion and kindred diseases.

NEW TO DAY.

is more especially than any other a hereditary disease, and for this simple reason: Arising from impure and insufficient blood, the disease locates itself in the lymphatics, which are composed of white tissues; there is a period of fatal life when the whole body consists of white tissues, and therefore the unborn child is especially susceptible to this dreadful disease. But there is a potent remedy for scrofula, which we did. Two bottles cured him. He is now 10 years old and has not had any sign of scrofula since. We recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all our friends. The last of the course of lectures at the M. E. Church was given on Friday evening of last week by Rev. Mr. McClish of San Francisco. The lecturer handled his subject, "Man," in an able manner. ## HIGH SCHOOL.

The Sonoma Trustees Take Action to Establish Such an Institution in this Valley.

At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of Sonoma School District, held last Wednesday evening, it was decided to take the necessary steps to establish a High School in this valley.

The New Constitution, which went into effect on the 1st of January, 1880, provided that no money should be appropriated from the State School fund to be used to maintain High Schools. In order to avoid this clause in the Constitution, Assemblyman Caminetti of Amador county introduced a bill into the Assembly some years ago, which subsequently became a law and was known as the "Camietti bill," which provided for what he very ingeniously called a Grammar School course. It was really a High School course in everything except in name, and was intended to prepare students for the scientific department of the California University.

Sonoma was among the first to avail itself of the provisions of the above act, and has already graduated four classes of Grammar Grade students, while a fifth class is now engaged in a final examination for graduation.

The last Legislature abolished the Grammar School Course, but passed an act which provides for the establishment and maintenance of High Schools in lieu of Grammar Schools.

In order to establish a High School the new law makes it necessary in our case for a majority of the Trustees of two or more adjoining school districts together with one hundred resident electors to petition the County Superintendent of Schools to declare an election in the school districts which have petitioned for the High School for the purpose of determining whether or not the petitioning school districts shall establish and maintain a High School. Should the election favor such an institution in our midst, which it undoubtedly will, the chairman of the various Boards of School Trustees uniting to support the High School will, under the provisions of the new law, be the Trustees of that educational institution, and they are empowered to decide upon the course of study and location of the school.

No trouble is apprehended in the success of the undertaking as the people of Sonoma Valley are too intelligent to oppose the establishment in our midst of an educational institution which means everything for our boys and girls and the social status of the community.

Mineral Paint.

On the farm of Green Hinkston, several miles southwest of this place, has been discovered an excellent quality of mineral paint. It is a beautiful red in color and has been pronounced by a prominent San Francisco paint firm as being exceptionally fine. Mr. Hinkston recently put his find into practical use and had the shingles of his house and barn painted with the same. The effect is most astonishing and we doubt if there is a painted roof in Sonoma county that looks as handsome as does those that have been coated with this latest Sonoma Valley production.

New Bridge at Shellville.

The residents of Shellville and vicinity are to have a new bridge erected across Sonoma creek at the extension of Broadway, the Supervisors having finally passed an order authorizing the same to be constructed. This bridge is a much-needed public improvement and one which should have been made twenty years ago. It will prove a great accommodation to a large number of farmers residing south of town.

Smash Up.

The night freight train of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway ran through an open draw bridge on the other side of the Brickyards last Saturday morning before daylight. Four freight cars were precipitated into the creek and badly wrecked. A quantity of freight consigned to this place was dumped into the soft mud at the bottom of the creek and badly damaged. The loss to the railroad company is between $2,000 and $3,000.

The serious illness of Mrs. Belle Calderwood still continues. She has two physicians in constant attendance, who entertain very little hope of her recovery. However, her relatives and many friends are cheerful and earnestly trust that she may soon be restored to health again.

P. P. A. R. O'Donnell of Sydney, Australia, and H. L. Mitchell of London, England, are the guests of Charley Potter of this valley. The young gentlemen express themselves as highly pleased with our beautiful scenery and fine climate. Their stay in the valley will be brief.

The wedding of Mr. Jos. Dowdell and Miss Redmond took place Wednesday at St. Francis' Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Sullivan in the presence of the relatives and a limited number of friends of the contracting parties. After the ceremony the happy young couple were driven to the residence of the bride's parents in El Verano, where a splendid wedding dinner awaited them. Many pretty and useful presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. Dowdell took the afternoon train for San Francisco, where they will spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside on the farm of Mr. Dowdell, a few miles west of Sonoma.

A pleasant wedding took place in Yountville, Napa county, on the 6th inst. The contracting parties were Mr. Robt. W. Douglas and Miss Ida Belle Douleson. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. King of Napa in the presence of the relatives and friends of the young people. After the congratulations were over a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Douleson, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Many handsome presents were sent by friends as a token of their esteem. The happy couple took the train for the metropolis, where they remained for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas came to Sonoma last week and will reside in the future at "Shady Nook," the home of Mr. Douglas.

Marriage of Dr. J. J. King and Miss Mary C. Lewis.

Dr. J. J. King, formerly of this place, was married in Los Gatos on the 5th inst to Miss Mary C. Lewis.

The bridesmaid was Miss Hattie Fowler of Los Gatos and the groomsmen Mr. John Hunter of Oakland, Rev. C. W. Crall, pastor of the M. E. Church, performed the ceremony, the house being beautifully decorated, a feature being the white floral umbrella, beneath which the happy couple stood to be united.

About seventy guests were present, who after the ceremony were entertained with music and recitations, and late in the evening a collation was served. The presents were many and costly. Among them was a handsome oak chair with pale blue plush trimmings, presented by the choir, of which the bride is a member. Dr. and Mrs. King will permanently take up their residence in Los Gatos, where the Dr. has a lucrative practice.

California Wines in the East.

A noticeable change of sentiment toward California wines is observable in the East. It is seen chiefly in the way of favorable newspaper comments and in the demand by first class clubs for our best viticultural products.

A New York club man, here lately, sent home six cases of the best light wines he could get, and gave assurance of sending for more, saying the quality of the wines was in the nature of a revelation to him.

All these things and in keeping up prices for known brands and the best bottled wines, but they have helped very little as yet in bringing to a paying figure the product of the wine-maker who sells in bulk.

Sales have been made during the past few weeks as low as 10 cents a gallon, and none much higher than 14 cents—a contrast to seven and eight years ago when 25 and 30 cents a gallon for new wines were common prices.

George West of Stockton, who ranks as one of the best business wine makers, has been fortunate, as usual, in disposing of his last season's product of wines and brandies, amounting all told to about three hundred thousand gallons. He sold the entire product a few weeks since to Mr. Kittredge of the Sonoma Wine and Brandy Company of New York. It is understood that by the sale about $120,000 changed hands.

The wines are chiefly ports, sheries, angelica and other sweet wines. The purchasing firm uses the product very largely in supplying the wholesale drug business of New York. The shipments hence are almost entirely by sea.—Belle-trin.

Tragedy Near Cloverdale.

A horrible tragedy, surrounded by mysterious and peculiar circumstances, occurred near Cloverdale Sunday night. Louis Dunbar, a negro, had been chopping wood in the vicinity and his visits to town were usually to get on a spree. Some feeling has been growing between Dunbar and the Indians on account of a too close intimacy. Saturday he was drunk and Monday his dead body was found, his clothes nearly all burnt off. The Indians are accused of committing the deed. No mark of violence is noticeable. Interesting developments are expected.—Santa Rosa Democrat.

Restriction Removed.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has notified all collectors that he has concluded not to assess spirits used in fortifying sweet wine as he started out to do last January and which action so stirred up the California sweet wine makers. The wine that has been held under his ruling of last January when he proposed to assess the spirits 90 cents on the gallon, can now be restamped and treated as other fortified sweet wine.

The World's Fair and Controller Colgan.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

SONOMA INDEX - TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1901.

Ungallant, but Courteous.

It was on a Fourth Avenue car that it happened. A snow storm had made the traffic unusually heavy, and the line was running only single cars. The men on the car had all risen but one, and he sat next the stove unmoved. The other side of the car had been filled by ladies, most of whom had been given seats by the prompt sacrifice of the men, who now filled the aisle. The ladies were loosely distributed along the seat; one sat sideways, gazing out of the window; a second allowed her child room enough for a good sized man by clambering around with his face to the pane; a third, dressed in silk, sat as though afraid of the touch of a woman next to her. A lady entered and looked around for a seat, and there was none. The men all looked at the man by the stove. He was a stout, hearty fellow, growing just a little old. He sat still, apparently unconscious. All the ladies across the aisle looked at him; the lady in silk glared. He didn't move. The lady moved up opposite him in the car and took hold of a strap, and still he sat still.

"Madam," said he at last, courteously enough, but in a voice plainly heard all through the car. "Madam, I do not feel inclined to give up my seat when so many of your own sex on the opposite side of the car make no move to make room for you."

And maybe there wasn't a shuffle on the other side of the car. The lady in silk jammed up against the plainly dressed woman, the child was hastily deposited in its mother's lap and the woman who gazed out the window saw something to attract her attention straight ahead of her. The lady who was standing and two elderly gentlemen occupied the room made—Minneapolis Journal.

Courtesy in the Year 2000.

While the unmarried woman of the year 2000, whether young or old, will enjoy the dignity and independence of the bachelorette of today, the insistent prosperity at present enjoyed by the latter will have passed into salubrious, if sad, eclipse. No longer profiting by the effect of the pressure of economic necessity upon woman, to make him indispensable, but dependent exclusively upon his intrinsic attractions, instead of being able to assume the fastidious airs of a sultan surrounded by languishing beauties, he will be fortunate if he can secure by his merits the smiles of one.

In the year 2000 no man, whether lover or husband, may hope to win the favor of maid or wife save by desert. While the poet, justly apprehending the ideal properties, has always persisted in representing man at the feet of woman, woman has been, in fact, the dependent and pensioner of man. Nationalism will justify the poet and satisfy the eternal fitness of things by bringing him to his marrow bones in earnest. But indeed we may be sure that in the year 2000 he will need no compulsion to assume that attitude.—Edward Bellamy in Ladies' Home Journal.

Edible Earth.

Much has been written about the earth eating tribes of various countries, but it is not generally known that the inhabitants of Penacoe, a village in Portugal, have for generations eaten a variety of earth found in the neighborhood. It is said that any of them leaving home is afflicted with a singular malady with gastric symptoms unless he be provided with a supply of the earth. The reason of this is probably the presence of arsenic in the earth, which is known to produce these singular effects upon its habitual consumers. The fact that Dr. Vogel has found none in it by a cursory examination, but, on the contrary, has detected that it contains about double the quantity of nitrogen found in similar soils from the adjacent fields, lends plausibility to the view that the active substance may be an alkaloid. The whole question could be easily settled by a competent chemist, and it is to be hoped that some one will undertake its investigation.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Raising Chickens for the City.

"Chicken ranches" are numbered among the most profitable of Long Island's industries. New York city and Brooklyn consume daily about 60,000 chickens and 150,000 eggs. Herefore a large proportion of these articles came from New Jersey and interior New York. Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and even Virginia send a good many, but the possibilities for profit have induced a great many people to go into the business, so that there are now probably four or five hundred "ranches" scattered between Bay Ridge and Montauk, on Long Island. Fowls of all kinds bring good prices in New York, and a poultry trust would pay as big dividends as sugar after a time. A man can go into the business with very little capital, and if he knows anything at all about the culture of fowls can make a fortune in a few years.—New York Letter.

No Man Essential to the Life of a Nation.

The graveyard grass of centuries has been fertilized with the dust of great men, who at one time or another were considered indispensable. There is altogether too much hero worship in the world, even in this utilitarian age. It is proper to give every man credit for his worth and for his achievements, but no man should be accounted greater than the cause he represents, and whenever he assumes to be greater it is time he was compelled to step aside.—Scranton Truth.
